FURNITURE CO. WILL MAKE DISPLAY

Eucalyptus Furniture Being Made for the Display, also Drawing Room Sets — California Woods Used Exclusively

W. A. Schrock's furniture factory is to be represented by an attractive display in the Richmond manufacturing exhibit at the San Francisco Land show. It was hoped that two or three of the cathedral chairs being made by the big factory for Grace Cathedral, in San Francisco, could be exhibited as an example of how this city's plants can beat out the east, but it is doubtful if the permission could be obtained, as it is feared Richmond visitors to the exhibit, and the realty men in particular, would wear out the new chairs.

Schrock is having some especial sets of eucalyptus furniture made for the display and also some drawing room tables of that material. The general public will be surprised when they see what this factory is turning out and learn that California woods are used principally. Mendocino oak is being employed mostly at the factory.

John Gerlach, manager of the Los Angeles Pressed Brick works, is going to have a beautiful display of tiling and all sorts of fancy building materials to represent that plant. The corner pillars of the Richmond space will also be constructed of various colored bricks from this factory. A beautiful mantle will probably have place in the exhibit.

PASSENGERS GIVEN SCARE WHEN CAR HAS SHORT CIRCUIT

A number of employes at the Standard Oil refinery, while on their way to work this morning, were forced to leave car number 429 at Sixth street and Macdonald avenue, when the controller box on the front end of the car became short-circuited.

Immediately following the firing of the controller box on the front end of the car, the box on the rear end began burning and throwing sparks at each time the car was started. After some considerable time spent in making a few repairs the car was finally towed to the car barn.

REV. D. W. CALFEE WILL REMAIN IN CITY

Announcement was made this morning that Rev. D. W. Calfee, who has been attending the annual conference of the Methodist church at Pacific Grove, had been reappointed as pastor of the Wesley Methodist church, in Richmond, for another year.

The many friends of this popular clergyman are elated over the good news, as it was thought that he might be placed on the superannuated list and retired from active work of the church.

Rev. Calfee has made many friends during his long pastorate in this city and many of our people, regardless of their church affiliations would be sorry to see him go.

TRAIN VICTIM IS BURIED THIS MORNING

The body of George Hayes, who was killed by a westbound Santa Fe train a few days ago, was interred in Sunset View cemetery this morning.

The inquest over the death of Hayes will be held in a few days by coroner C. L. Abbott. Up to the present time none of the dead man's relatives have been located.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—If a proposition made to the sanitary committee of the chamber of commerce is accepted tonight an agreement will be entered into with the inventor of a fly catching device to rid Sacramento of 12,000,000 flies, at a cost of $600. The inventor, A. Dunlap, of Richmond, has offered to catch flies at the rate of 5 cents per thousand. It is Dunlap's intention, in the event of arrangements being made, to place his fly traps in various sections of the city and each night deliver to the chamber of commerce the results of his catch in sealed parcels. The parcels will be weighed to determine the number caught.

It is figured that on a basis of 65,000 population in Sacramento each person will be rid of nearly 200 flies if the entire quota of 12,000,000 is caught and destroyed. Last week at the state fair grounds Dunlap demonstrated his device by bagging 165,000 in fifteen traps on a single day. Dunlap will continue his campaign of fly catching at once if the committee decides on the expenditure of the $600.

Mr. Dunlap is a resident of San Pablo and recently made a demonstration of his patented fly trap in front of the Record-Herald office. He placed a trap in the rear of the Standard market, on Macdonald avenue, and caught 30,000 flies in ten hours.

Mr. Dunlap intends to enter upon the manufacture of his patented sition made to the chamber of comtraps at an early date. His propomerce of the capital city, if accepted, will result in much advertising for his device.

STERLING FIXTURE CO. AGAIN IN RACE

H. F. BROWN WITHDRAWS FROM CO.

The board of directors of the Stirling Fixture company met in the real estate offices of Herbert F. Brown last evening for the purpose of reorganizing and electing a new president in the place of Herbert Brown, who has resigned on account of some misunderstanding as to the settlement of the bills.

H. Barber, of San Francisoc, was elected president of the new company. From what could be learned of the meeting it is the intention of the new board of directors to get the plant in operation again inside of a few days. The plant, which is located in the Andrade-Rivers tract, has been closed down for the past few weeks owing to the split-up in the board of directors over the liabilities which the firm has incurred while in operation. It is thought that with the launching of company will make rapid strides to the front and will keep its place the new board of directors that the with the other manufacturing industries of this city. A force of men will be put to work inside of the next few weeks which will gradually be increased until the plant again regains its normal running condition.

It is said all liabilities will be paid in a short time.

TEN FRIENDS OF REV. CALFEE SEND RECORD-HERALD CHECK FOR $100

The Record-Herald received today a check for $100 from ten friends of Rev. D. W. Calfee. They do not care to have their names made public for the reason that they are not seeking notoriety and at the same time recognize the worth of Rev. Calfee to the community.

This swells the Calfee fund to $376.00. Now the sum of $700 is needed to raise the mortgage on Rev. Calfee's property, and it is the desire of the two daily papers in Richmond to close this matter up at an early date. With that end in view, the Record-Herald urges those of its readers who feel so inclined to send in what they can conveniently spare, in order that the matter may be disposed of.

Rev. Calfee has been returned to Richmond by the general conference of th Methodist church for another year. This is an unusual precedent in his church. It is the custom of the church authorities to change their pastors from year to year, but recognizing the fact that Rev. Calfee has accomplished a wonderful amount of work in the interest, not only of the church, but of humanity in general, in Richmond, it was the unanimous consent of the general conference that he remain in Richmond.

Rev. D. W. Calfee is known to every man, woman and child in the community and his many charitable acts have been performed without any idea of earthly recompense. As a result of his liberality he finds himself today an old man and practically penniless. He owns a couple of lots upon which he expects to build a home for himself and family; a home where he and his good wife can spend their last days in peace. These lots are encumbered with a mortgage in the sum of $700. Now, there only remains $324 more to raise in order to clear this property.

We again urge our readers to send in their contributions. It makes no difference how small the amount may be—every little bit

LABORER'S GOAT GIVES ALARM— SHED BURNS UP

An alarm of fire sounded this morning about 4 o'clock and the members of Fire Company No. 2 responded with the auto truck. The scene of the blaze was out at the end of Sixth street, in the Highland tract. It appears that a shed at the rear of a house belonging to R. Larabee caught fire from some unknown cause and was entirely consumed before the fire boys arrived. A goat confined in the shed made such a noise that the neighbors were awakened.

GUM SHOE MAN MUST FACE TRIAL

Man Assaulted by Burns Detective Taken to Marysville, Where He Has Been Charged With Being an Accessory to Crime of Murder

District Attorney M'Kenzie States He Will Vigorously Prosecute Detective For Outrage Committed in Town of Martinez

MARTINEZ, Sept. 24.—Acting upon the request of District Attorney Stanley and Sheriff Voss, of Yuba county, Alfred Nelson, the young Swedish laborer, whose statements led to the arrest of R. B. Henry, a Burns detective, on a charge of assault, under color of authority, left the county jail in Martinez late yesterday afternoon for Marysville in company with W. A. Mundell, head of the Pacific Coast Burns agency, and George Watson, a deputy. Allan Johnson, an I. W. W. suspect in connection with the Wheatland hopfields riots, was also taken to Marysville by the detectives.

Although reluctant to release Nelson into the hands of the detectives, District Attorney Mackenzie secured the promise of the Yuba county officials that Nelson would be returned to Martinez a week from next Friday to aid in Mackenzie's prosecution of Henry for assaulting Nelson. Stanley and Voss, telephoned from Marysville to Martinez for the release of Nelson.

Henry Out On Bail

The preliminary hearing of Henry will be before Justice of the Peace Hayden. Henry is at present at liberty on a cash bail of $2000 provided by a fellow Burns operative of San Francisco.

Editorial Department

"To Observations Which Ourselves We Make, We Grow More Partial, for the Observer's Sake."

The Democracy of Christ

A personal letter to this department requests that more "eastern trip talks" be printed, as the writer was much interested in them and thought they were good reading. This is glad tidings to a scribe and much appreciated, but we did not want to wear the readers' patience out along one subject, or a variety of subjects written around one center, so have sort of sandwiched that eastern dope in between other things. A preacher came in the other day and said our sermon about the poor man having a soul was real good, and we ought to write more of it. Next day a sinner stopped us on the street and said our item about a preacher having committed a lot of worldly since and that his feet ought to be sticking out of the windows of hell, met with his entire approval, and that we ought to write more of that kind. In the meantme Dan McLaughlin, Herbert Brown, Ben Schapiro, George Wall, Henry Cutting, Wernse, Burg and a lot more of those hardened old sinners insist that we write nothing else but boosts for Richmond. Have patience, gentlemen! You all have the harpoon coming, and if we live long enough you will get it. There was once a boarding house that had one small chicken on the table for dinner, and each of the ten boarders asked for a leg, whereupon the landlady said: "Gentlemen, this here chicken ain't no centipede."

Now for a bit more back east talk, mixed with politics:

These little eastern skits during the past few months have been written with the idea of boosting California and Richmond and incidentally to spread the everlasting gospel of true Democracy and to serve as sidelights upon the great problem now facing this whole country, as to whether a democracy for, of and by the whole people is to rule, or whether Mammon is to continue to take the place of God and a moneyed oligarchy oppress millions of people who deserve and have a right to something better at the hands of the government and their fellow men than oppression.

We have sought to show by the interviews granted us by the President of the United States, the Speaker of the House of Congress, the Secretary of State, and various other high dignitaries of the present Democratic administration, that the principles and intentions of these leaders were what their pary platform pledged them to, and that when these principles and intentions were framed into laws, as they are fast being, it would result in a great good and benefit to the whole people.

We have endeavored to portray the business, living and other conditions existing back there in the big cities of the overcrowded east, just exactly as we found them to be, and paint a plain, unvarnished picture of the millionaire on the avenue and the pauper in the slums, in hopes that the average reader would be caused to think over these things and apply them to the philosophy of life, draw the morals to suit himself, and perhaps take some of the ideas thus engendered with him whn he went into the polling-place at the next election.

Democracy is right, friends. There is no getting around it, and the cardinal doctrines, basic foundations and great truths embodied in the platform of the Democratic party are in every way worthy of your support, morally, financially, personally and every other way. The existing conditions are not what any of us would wish for, and we are all seeking the proper remedies. The only trouble is that we are divided up into half a dozen different parties and factions of parties, each claiming that his particular political path is the only one that leads on to glory and other good places.

We have got to cut out a lot of this party monkey - business, eliminate prejudice, and look the country over like a judge on the bench is supposed to look over a case that is argued before him. It does not make a nickel's worth of difference to a majority of the people whether the elephant, the donkey or the bull moose is the emblem—emblems do not pay the grocery bill, and what we want is results. We want results that will benefit the masses of the American people; the greatest good for the greatest number, and this scribe believes, and is endeavoring to show, that Democracy, as exemplified by the Wilson administration, is the best key to the problem that has been found yet.

We believe in the Fatherhood of God and the Brotherhood of Man, and the Wilson-Bryan administration of the gospel of Democracy, world without end, amen! This faith was in us before we went out into the busy world back yonder by the Atlantic seaboard to butt into things, mix with the rich and the poor, and dig into the conditions and archives for ourself, and we eame back to California with a stronger determination than even to help spread this good gospel out among our people of the Golden West, to help bring about better conditions for everybody, more meat and less rags, better wages, more happiness and less poverty, more of the gospel of Christ and less of the machinations of the devil. If Christ was on earth today he would be a Democrat! Of course he would! Why not? He showed his democracy when he lashed the money-changers from the temple.

We have no spleen or grudge against the rich or the aristocratic, if they came by their riches and their aristocracy honestly, but for the Shylocks of Wall street, the purse-proud old fatheads who roll in luxury while their millions of underpaid and underfed hirelings wade in ignorance and filth, we have no more mercy than they have had for us, and Lord knows that has been none at all! Go back there, you of the west, and see these things, and you will come back feeling just as we do, because your hearts are not of the cramped, warped, chop-sued, chewed-up-and-spit-out variety, such as runs in the communities where the dollar is way up on the hill and the man way down in the gulch.

In the teeming beehives of the east it is difficult to find a job that is worth while; difficult even to find enough to eat and a place to call home; a nightmare proposition to support a family for a poor man, for the dread of losing the job is always present. It is even difficult to find God. He is probably around there somewhere, but the evidence is slight. We wanted to find Him while there, to give thanks that we were in the east only temporarily and had a return ticket to California, but we had no Diagonese lantern and so had to travel three thousand miles toward the setting sun to get to Him, and sure enough, when we got off at Richmond, California, dusty and travel-worn, and looked around at the hills and the bay, and city full of big-hearted western people, the valleys burdened with the fruits of a bountiful harvest, and the mountains looking calmly down, we knew we had caught up with Him, for all around were evidences of His smile and loving kindness.

When God made this world and got to the California end of it He saw that it was good and smiled, and His smile has been over this fair land ever since; is now and ever will be!

EXAMINATIONS FOR FOREST SERVICE

The United State civil service commission announces an examination for assistant forest ranger on October 21st and 22nd. In field district No. 5, of the forest service, the examinations will be held in California at Alturas, Bakersfield, Bishop, Chews Ridge, Hot Springs, Los Angeles, Nevada City, Northfork, Placerville, Quincy, Red Bluff, San Diego, Santa Barbara, Sisson, Sonora, Weaverville, Willows and Yreka; and in Nevada in Gardenville.

Candidates must be able-bodied men between the ages of 21 and 40, capable of enduring all the hardships of outdoor life. A medical certificate to this effect is required. The examination consists of two parts, a field test and the answering of practical questions. The latter relate to land surveying, timber estimating, lumbering, land laws, mining, and the livestock business. Practical experience and general intelligence, as shown by ability to write with reasonable clearness of expression, are the main requirements. Applicants must be residents of the state in which they seek employment, and should be familiar with local industrial conditions and topography.

From the list of successful candidates, the government selects new men for the forest service, who are appointed as assistant forest rangers, at $1,100 yearly salary. They are eligible to promotion later to higher grades, including vacancies in the position of deputy supervisor and supervisors.

These field men—rangers and assistant rangers—transact the business of the national forests under the direction of the supervisors. They conduct the government's grazing business, handle small timber sales, build roads, trails, telephone lines and cabins, fight forest fires, and estimate timber.

When necessary the ranger must own and maintain his own saddle and pack animals. Rangers permanently assigned to a forest are provided with headquarters consisting of cabins, barns, and sheds and with some agricultural land to grow food for their families and domestic animals.

The government in announcing the present examination calls attention to the fact that appointment in the forest service does not guarantee year-long employment, since it is necessary to furlough a number of rangers during the winter months when their services are not needed on the forests. Preference is given, howemer, to furloughed employes whose services are satisfactory in recruiting the force at the beginning of a field season.

Applicants can secure information concerning the examination from the U. S. civil service commission, Washington, D. C., or from forest supervisors, at the places named.

FEATURE WILL BE CARNIVAL OF NATIONS

(Special Dispatch to Record-Herald)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—To the carnival of nations, which will be one of the features of the Portola festival of October 22nd-25th, the Japanese are going to contribute what promises to be one of the most picturesque phases. As dainty a Japanese garden as can be found from Golden Gate Park to the feet of the Daibutsu will be instaleld in Union square, where many of the ceremonies will be held.

The garden will be the work of the Japanese Association of America.

All the subtle beauty that is Japan's will be drawn upon for this feature, and the square will be turned into one of those fairylands which have made the Nipponese known as the world's supreme artists in the realization of nature's beauties.

Kiyo Sue Inui, general secretary of the association, has informed the Portola festival committee that his organization will undertake this phase of the holiday preparations.

"The Portola celebrates the 400th anniversary of the discovery of the Pacific ocean by Europeans, but the Japanese, a Pacific people, have as much interest in this maritime anniversary as anybody," said Secretary Inui.

"The Jaapnese association is glad of the opportunity or thus showing the cordiality of its feelings toward America."

A prize has been offered by the association for the best design to be followed out in Union square. This is in the hands of a committee of seven members, who, with the judges picked from among members of the association, will make the final decision after conferring with the Portola leaders to make sure their plans correlate with the other decorations of the city.

STORY No. 29

There are a great many doctors in the world! They are great diagnosticians.

Every case of sugar in the urine (glycosuria) is deabetes. Every sore throat is diptheria. Every colic is appendicitis. Every sore or lump is cancer.

What wonderful "cures" they make! Barnum said that people liked to be humbugged. Sometimes I am inclined to believe it! The bamboozling doctor is the exception, not the rule, and some of the worst bamboozlers wear the "ethical cloak." Now, I am doing my work just as any honest physician—advertising is my only ethical sin. I do openly what many do by schemes of their own. To me, every case is a problem to be solved. I must study you from time to tme. You must expect a reason able number of treatments before good will result, especially in chronic cases. While I am treating all sorts of cases, from the head to the toes, I like to treat chronic cases that have gone the rounds without benefit. I examine the eyes for glasses and treat all kinds of eye troubles. Catarrhal deafness is common. An old lady, almost totally deaf, said: "I've paid out about all the money I'm going to on my ears. I cum over, and if you could promise a cure in a couple of treatments, I'd risk that much again." I told her that she had better keep her money.

I do not treat by the month, or use any other scheme to keep a string on my patients. My fee is $1.00 to $1.50, paid cash, for office work (medicine included). If you cannot come, send for me and I will call. I do my best for you—if that is not satisfactory you may stop coming. You won't owe me anything.

BARBARY COAST OUSTED IN FRISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—By unanimous vote last night the police commission adopted a resolution that means the annihilation of the far famed Barbary Coast of San Francisco. The resolution provides that after September 30th dancing will not be permitted in any saloon or restaurant where liquor is sold within the district named nor any women patrons or employes permitted in such saloons or restaurants.

It further provides that licenses will not be renewed within the district except for ordinary saloons.

The action of the commission was the culmination of a campaign that has been waged with growing vigor for many months. Early in the year restrictions were placed upon the Coast, the section about Pacific and Kearney streets, where dance halls and dives have flourished for years, growing from the old-time adjuncts of the water front known to sailors the world over into the elaborate establishments of today. The new regulations curbed the gaiety of the Coast a little and many dance hall proprietors declared the end had come. Ways of circumventing the rules were found, however, and the coast gradually resumed its old-time enjoyments.

The campaign against it had not abated. Within the last few weeks it has suddenly swelled into a chorus of protest. Recently a morning newspaper launched into the fight with a full page editorial demanding that the city be swept clean once and for all. Mass meetings were held and the subject was kept in the forefront of public notice. Last night the police commission, after a careful study of all sides of its problem, adopted the following resolution:

"Resolved, That after September 30, 1913, no dancing shall be permitted in any cafe, restaurant or saloon where liquor is sold, within the district bounded on the north and east by the bay, on the south by Clay street and on the west by Stockton street;

"Be it further resolved, That no women patrons or women employes shall be permitted in any saloon in the said district;

"Be it further resolved, That no license shall be renewed upon Pacific street between Kearny and Sansome streets, excepting for a straight saloon."

The meeting of the commission last night was held in a room crowded to suffocation with representatives of woman's clubs and reform organizations. The great majority of those present were women. In the crowd also were dance hall proprietors and a few women from the dance halls.

MEAT FAMINES ARE LAID TO FARMERS

CHICAGO, Sept. 24.—The responsibility of averting a future meat famine was put up to small farmers by speakers at the eighth annual convention of the American meat packers' convention here yesterday. All agreed that if the decrease in meat production of the last ten years is not stopped, the question of the meat supply for the people of the United States will be most serious. Among the remedies suggested by the speakers were:

"Every small farmer should raise at least two beef steers a year to offset the decreased production of the great ranches of the west.

"Teh remaining ranges should be tut up in farms, to put all farmers on an equal footing.

"Development of the hills of New England, with their bountiful springs and prevailing shade, as a beef-producing country.

"Substitution of corn for cotton in the southern state and the consequent development of the hog and cattle production."

The report of the executive committee sounded the first note of danger of a famine. It read:

"The American meat-packing house situation and that of consumers of meat food products in this country are both in a condition more precarious than at any other time in our history.

"The shortage of livestock, which has been impressed upon us as packing-house producers for several years, has been intensified during the last year. Our population is growing at its normal rate. We have passed the point where demand has overtaken production, and we are now on a basis which shows that demand exceeds the supply of meat food products to such an extent that we have abnormally high prices for meat food products."

The farmers are not furnishing nearly a sufficient number of animals to keep the packing-houses in operation on anything like full time; and, among other causes for the shortage of meat, the report points out there is the loss of meat food animals through preventable diseases and "the unthinking slaughter of calves, and especially heifer calves."

The committee appointed to confer with government officials regarding pure-food laws, in its report, challenged the wisdom of the federal government in dictating what ingredients shall be used in meat products.

FRASER WRITES ON DOCTORS AND ETHICS

Dr. W. W. Fraser, the physician who believes in advertising, has an interesting story in this issue of the Record-Herald. This is his twenty-ninth contribution, and it is hard to say which one is the best. However, this story is a crackerjack, and should be read by all.

The doctor tells about the bamboozling medicos and the great diagnosticians who call every sore throat diphtheria and every colic appendicitis.

GOVERNMENT MENTIONS PLAGUE IN COUNTY

The report of the United States public health bureau for September 19th, and the fact that a case of plague existed in this county is reported. The report says that it was the case of a white mon, 55 years of age, and that he died at the county hospital on September 11th. The man had worked on a ranch near Pittsburg, this county.

The same eport states that some squirrels examined by the government pathologist were found to be infected with the plague germ. The squirrels caem from this county.

DR. CUNNINGHAM HAS MOVED TO NEW HOME

Dr. Edward Cunningham has moved into his new home near Twenty-fifth street. The place has just been finished and the doctor now boasts of the nicest residence in Richmond.

The interior painting and decorating was done by A. Brunner, the well known painting contractor, who has a paint store at 1310 Macdonald avenue. Mr. Brunner is considered one of the most up-to-date painters and house decorators in Richmond, and he can well feel proud of his work.

When a man says he can stay up late and feel as well as ever the next day, you may also doubt his other statements.

A slit skirt by any other name would be as bad, or good; you recall that early efforts in that line were called directoire.

Marysville yesterday, was arrested last Thursday evening in Martinez by Henry and Henry O'Donnell.

The district attorney yesterday promised that Henry would be vigorously prosecuted. The offense for which Henry is being held on $2000 cash bail is punishable by a fine of $5000 and five years in jail. No warrant has yet been issued for the arrest of O'Donnell who, with Henry, arrested Nelson in Geyserville on September 11th, and took him to Santa Rosa, thence to Sacramento and to San Francisco, and finally brought him to the Martinez county jail. O'Donnell is accused by Nelson of having joined with Henry in assaulting him.

While District Attorney McKenzie is emphatic in his statements that private detectives who assault persons shall be made an example of in Contra Costa county, W. A. Mundell, chief of the Burns agency on this coast, says there will be no trouble whatever and that Henry will be exonerated of the charge. It is alleged by persons with whom Mundell has spoken in Martinez since the arrest of Henry that he has no fear of McKenzie, but says that he will "show him up" just as he has made a "laughing stock" of several other district attorneys of the state. Mundell arrived in Martinez this morning from Marysville. He said that Nelson will be charged with murder on a bill of information from the district attorney of Yuba county.

Nelson Relates Movements

Still maintaining that he was entirely guiltless of any complicity in the recent I. W. W. riots in the Wheatland hop yards, Nelson again related to the district attorney yesterday morning his movements at the time of the riots. He said he was picking hops in the field when he heard the shouts of several men nearby. Rushing over to the scene of the noise he was swallowed up by the great gang of hop pickers and shortly afterward heard several shots fired. He claims that he fled from the place, leaving the ranch, although $1 was due him for services.

E. Lyders, attorney for the Swedish consulate in San Francisco, who also heard Nelson's story, announced that he would demand Nelson's release on a writ of habeas corpus in the name of the Swedish government. A number of prominent Swedish residents of Martinez and other sections of the county are interested in the case and indignant at the fashion in which their countryman was handled. Tobacco and other small necessaries were given Nelson by Swedish residents today.

Methods employed by Henry and O'Donnell in attempting to secure a confession of guilt from Nelson, aside from the beatings they gave him in the Martinez hotel Friday night, were yesterday told by the man. After lodging him in a cell which was indicated by Deputy Sheriff A. D. Joslin in charge, one of the Burns detectives, posing as a hop picker, was put in the cell and tried to gain Nelson's confidence. The latter, suspecting that some fresh attempt was being made to draw from him a statement in regard to the Wheatland riots, so enraged the detective, according to Nelson, that he kept up a continual noise by pounding on the floor.

Joslin Gives Permission

Deputy Sheriff Joslin allowed Henry and O'Donnell to remove Nelson from the county jail last Friday night, it it said, for the purpose of putting their prisoner through the "sweating" process and the subsequent brutal treatment at the Martinez hotel.

"Nelson was the prisoner of the Burns detectives," said McKenzie, "and Sheriff Veale allowed Henry and O'Donnell, as a matter of convenience, to place him in the jail temporarily. When the detectives came to Joslin and asked for Nelson the deputy allowed them to take Nelson. If Joslin suspected that the detectives were taking Nelson to beat him and allowed his release he certainly should be severely reprimanded."

When Henry appears for trial the district attorney will have three important witnesses who say they saw the detectives beating Nelson. They are Mrs. Harry Fink, wife of the hotel bartender; William Sears, a druggist, and Manager Thomas, of the Mervy Elwell company.

FURNITURE COMPANY WILL MAKE DISPLAY

works for the manufacture of paving bricks for use in steps and yard walks. Experiments with new clays have developed a brick, almost a tiling, that is suitable for this. The works may later turn out a street paving brick, experiments in that line being now under way.

The California Wine association will display its various vintages in fancy bottles.

The exhibit will give a good idea of Richmond's manufacturing importance. Seven of the leading industries will be represented by telling little exhibits, all in the one inclosure.

A leading feature will be the enlarged photographs, showing the city's growth and its many industries, the great quantities of literature that will be distributed among the visitors and the illustrated lectures in the big lecture hall, where this city will have its innings on the screen.

SUBJECT ANNOUNCED FOR FRIDAY LECTURE

"The Commission Form of Government" is the subject announced for the meeting of the Richmond Discussion Center of the University Extension courses, at the Lincoln school auditorium, on Tenth street, next Friday evening.

This will be the initial lecture under the auspices of the University Extension organization just launched.

The following meeting will be held a week from Friday and the topic of "Municipal Ownership of Railways" will be discussed.

Many people of Richmond are taking an active part in the movement, and it is hoped that a large audience will greet the first speaker.

CONVENTION OF TEACHERS ON WHEELS

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 24.—The annual convention of county and city superintendents this year has been projected on original lines. It is to be a convention on wheels. It will live and eat and have its being on a special train, which will move from place to place for five days about the base of Mt. Shasta. A large car, seated with 150 chairs, will afford space for the meetings when the local halls are inconvenient or when the convention is on the move.

The idea is to "see California first." For the chief school officers of the state to spend a week in a famous scenic region like Shasta should make better human beings of them and should give them new outlooks and fresh inspirations that will in turn reach the children of the state.

The plan has been worked out so that it costs no more money than the ordinary convention in a good hotel. Two sessions will be held each day, and the mornings and evenings will be spent in looking over the surrounding country.

The convention special struck a responsive chord, and an extra sleeper and an extra diner had to be added at the last minute. When it pulled out for the north from the state capital it consisted of five Pullman, two diners, one observation car, one auditorium and one dynamo car for electric lights. Its first stop will be at Castle Crags; the second day at Shasta Springs; the third at Sisson; the fourth at McCloud, and the last day will be spent at the state normal school at Chico, on the return trip, which closes at Sacramento on Friday, the 25th, at 6 o'clock.

When the roll was called at the superintendents' convention on Monday at Shasta Springs, several absentees were noted. The reasons for their absence were varied and picturesque as the mountains and fierce streams of California. The superintendent of Kings county was detained by a hot recall election on the 16th, where the office itself was at stake. The superintendent of Plumas county, caring for her husband who was wounded in a duel over the location of a high school, wherein his antagonist was killed. The superintendent of Mono county was detained because she had married the sheriff a year ago and had a lovely little baby girl less than a week old. The superintendent of Shasta county was unable to be present because she had lately wedded the high school principal of her county, and his school has already begun—what God hath joined together let no man put asunder. Observe that all these bizarre and romantic happenings concern the women superintendents; the men plod on in their accustomed dull monotony. However, California is a woman suffrage state.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Well known local druggist says everybody is using old-time recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. Besides, it takes off dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair, after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

For sale by all druggists.—Advt.

30,000 VOICES

And Many Are the Voices of Richmond People

Thirty thousand voices—what a grand chorus! And that's the number of American men and women who are publicly praising Doan's Kidney Pills for relief from backache, kidney and bladder ills. They say it to friends. They tell it in the home papers. Richmond people are in this chorus. Here's a Richmond case.

Mrs. M. E. Stubblefield, 334 Ripley avenue, Richmond, Cal., says: "Two of my family have used Doan's Kidney Pills and in both cases the best of results were had. One of the family suffered from attacks of backache and often felt too sick and run down to do any housework. Doan's Kidney Pills cured this case. Recently, I gave Doan's Kidney Pills to one of my relatives who had weak kidneys and couldn't control the kidney secretions. It wasn't long before this weakness went away. I strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all sufferers from kidney complaint."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's and take no other.—Advt.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WILL LOOK UP THE LAW

The people of Richmond have taken hold of the project to acquire the traction system of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal railways under a public utility district plan. They will meet in mass meeting within the next week, arrangements for the gathering being in the hands of a special committee appointed by Mayor O. R. Ludewig on a vote of the city council.

Councilman G. A. Follett, Attorney D. J. Hall and W. L. Lane constitute the committee.

Professor Thomas Reed of the department of political science, University of California, will be one of the principle speakers. Professor Reed will explain the Gates law, under which the district will be incorporated; the valuation of the properties to be acquired, and the estimated income.

No other project in recent years has received such widespread commendation and support as this one of taking over the east bay traction system and placing it in the hands of the people.

At the meeting of the Alameda County Civic association tomorrow night in the Oakland chamber of commerce the project will be the main topic of discussion. At that time it is expected that the majority of the improvement and civic associations will report favorably on the proposition.

Attorney-General U. S. Webb has been asked for an official interpretation of a provision of the Gates law that has to do with the bonding capacity of the public utility district. There is some uncertainty as to whether or not the district can levy bonds to the extent of 15 per cent of the assessed valuation of the district independent of any bonds that may have been issued against the property.

'49ERS BARRED PROFANE TALK

That the rugged Argonauts and stern men who came to California in the days of '49 were not without a deep sense of moral righteousness is shown in a measure by the novel document which the passengers aboard the Panama signed while en route to San Francisco, in March, 1849.

Several of those whose signatures were attached were prominent in the early days of the state, and won places for their names in history.

The document, highly prized, is now in the hands of Dr. J. L. Cogswell, pioneer, of Berkeley, who arrived in San Francisco on the bark Floyd, September 15th, 1849. It was presented to him by Mrs. William H. Helton, widow of the late pioneer of Texas, who was prominent in the civil war, and whose name was identified with the early history of the "Lone Star state."

The document reads as follows:

"Feeling that profane and indecent language is both wrong and ungentlemanly, without excuse and deserving no indulgence, and alike contrary to the precepts of morality and good breeding, and believing also that association or concert of action comes from strength of resistance against pernicious habits; therefore,

"We, the undersigned, do agree as gentleman that, during the present journey to California, we will not, on any pretext whatsoever, indulge in profanity or vulgarity, and that, furthermore, should we, at any time be found so far forgetful of ourselves and what is due to us as gentlemen as to use any of the interdicted expressions, we will not take offense when called to propriety by any one of the undersigned."

EAGLES PLAN BIG SOCIAL FOR LADIES

The Richmond aerie of the Eagles will hold its ladies' night at A. O. U. W. hall tomorrow evening, at which time the members of the order plan to have one of the biggest social gatherings that has been held by them this year.

The evening will be spent at whist, following which refreshments will be served by the committee in charge. The hall is to be prettily decorated for the occasion in streamers and greens.

ABSTRACTERS' SYSTEMS ARE ASSAILED

CONCORD, Sept. 24.—A movement to revolutionize, through the initiative, the present system of title searching has been started by realty men and landowners of this section of the county.

The proponents of the proposed measure would take the business out of the hands of the abstract companies and have the searching done by the county clerk and his deputies for fees proportionate to the actual clerical work done. They point out that the records are the property of the county, and that the abstract companies are making capital out of what belongs to the people with a scale of charges that places a heavy burden upon realty dealers who desire to dispose of their property.

Fees as high as $75, it is declared, have been charged in many cases in the course of recent deals in Contra Costa county and they have been known to run over $500. Absolutely no share of these charges goes into the county treasury, whereas, it is pointed out, that the county, by taking the work into its own hands, could do it more efficiently and more cheaply and make a profit.

Among the realty men who have expressed themselves in regard to the matter is T. A. Enloe, of this town.

"It has come under my personal observation in having abstracts and searches made for small property owners," said Mr. Enloe, "that they have been charged out of all reason and I do not see why this work cannot be done under the supervision of the county clerk, which will entitle our abstracts to carry the seal of the county and at a much lower rate than the farmers and landowners are being charged by private corporations who, under the present system have free and unhindered access to our county records without compensation to either the county or the landowners."

Dan Matheson, the retired capitalist, expressed indignation at the excessive charges that he himself has been forced to pay and declared that placing the work in the hands of county officers should result in a great saving to the landowners.

E. Lanzone, a property owner of Concord, pointed out that in Italy, France and Germany all abstracts are made out by the municipal authorities for a small fee never exceeding one dollar, except where a survey is necessary. He held that the European system, with a few moderations, would be applicable to California.

C. L. Williams, manager of the Federal Land company, declared that most realty men and many land owners realized the need of a change in the system of perfecting titles and that the question to be settled was the precise nature of the remedy and the method of procedure. "The limit of forebearance has been reached," said he.

THE BUILDER OF AN INDUSTRIAL COMMUNITY

In the "Interesting People" department of the October American magazine appears an article about Irving T. Bush, the head of the Bush Terminal system in New York—a millionaire by inheritance, and a multi-millionaire by achievement.

Mr. Bush, who is now forty-five years old, became impressed before he was thirty with the idea that the ideal industrial community is one where land is comparatively cheap, where working people can live at low cost combined with comfort, and where factory, warehouse, freight car and steamship all can meet and do business together. Obviously such an industrial community was not possible on congested Manhattan island. So young Mr. Bush dreamed his great dream about some water front sand lots he owned way down the harbor in South Brooklyn. On these sand lots he saw rising big warehouses and great industrial buildings, and among the warehouses and industrial buildings he saw tracks on which locomotives were hauling freight cars from all over the country. From the sand lots he saw extending splendid modern piers, at which were tied ships from all over the earth. The following is an extract:

"In all respects his dream has been realized. In 1902, when the Bush Terminal company was organized, Mr. Bush found no difficulty in getting all the outside capital he needed and since then the development has gone rapidly forward until today it represents an investment of $20,000,000. Like the steel city of Gary, this South Brooklyn industrial city, which covers 200 acres, has been built according to a plan every detail of which was thought out in advance. In its nine enormous industrial buildings are carried on nearly 200 different manufacturing enterprises ranging from chewing gum and corsets to pianos and gas engines. More industrial buildings are going up, the ultimate plan calling for thirty. Of warehouses there are 150. The railway yards can store 2000 cars. Each of the terminal's seven great piers is leased to a steamship company. More than 10,000 persons are employed, representing with their families a city of 50,000. It is a city which has its own police force, landscape force and cleaners, its own trolley cars, locomotives, tugs, floats, lighters and barges.

"It is conceded that every detail of this city originated in the brain of Irving T. Bush, who continues to dominate its every feature. With all this to his credit at the early age of forty-four, he must be regarded as a striking exception to the rule as regards rich men's sons. His father, Rufus T. Bush, one of Brooklyn's most solid citizens and widely known as the owner of the famous schooner-yatch "Coronet," laid the foundations of his large fortune as the head of the Bush and Denslow Oil company, the plant of which occupied part of the site now covered by the Bush Terminal. About thirty years ago the Standard Oil company bought up this plant to dismantle it, but retained the real estate until it was purchased with the money left to Irving Bush by his father.

"At the time of his father's death, Irving Bush was only twenty-one, and was employed as a clerk by the Standard Oil company. From boarding school he had gone directly into business, for that was his natural bent. As he became older, however, he also developed, despite his lack of technical training, a striking aptitude for engineering problems, which undoubtedly has been of great assistance to him in enabling him to achieve what he has.

"A quiet-spoken and courteous gentleman, Mr. Bush is celebrated among his associates for two striking characteristics; downright candor such as is likely to sweep an opponent off his feet, and resistless energy in putting through anything which, after due discussion, he has once made up his mind to put through; when, with Mr. Bush, the time comes to move, everything must move and move at once, no excuses for delay accepted."

Still, we can't see why a "suff" hasn't as much right to smoke as she has to vote, although some women are kicking about it.

What are the kicking about? Suppose you were a stage hand and had to attend a lecture and stay until the lights are out.

OPIUM PLANT IS UNEARTHED IN A RAID

The "Floating Palace" on New York island, near Pittsburg, was raided last night by F. A. Southerland, of the state board of Pharmacy, and Constable C. H. Palmer, and a complete set of opium smoking paraphernalia was discovered beneath the bed of Myrtle Lee, the landlay of the resort.

Southerland came from San Francisco to Martinez and secured a Jane Doe warrant before Justice C. H. Hayden, which was given to Constable Palmer to serve. The denizens of the palace were taken completely by surprise and had no word of warning before they were told to await in one room while the search was conducted.

Southerland had word that a larger quantity of opium was in hiding at the Palace, but beyond the two pipes, lamps and small cans of the popi essence there was nothing found, after ever nook and corner and crany in the house had been looked into.

Five women were in the house and after the discovery of the illicit matter the four all pleaded their innocence of smoking opium. Myrtle Lee shouldered the blame and was brought to Martinez at 2 o'clock last night and given her freedom on $200 bail before Justice C. H. Hayden pending her sentence this afternoon.

About $70 worth of opium was found but Southerland who had traced a sale of the drug to the resort has information that a larger amount has gone there.
